FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK:

Yes, now I really do have a desk. Had been using a library table (which was daughter Kathies) and a little typewriter stand but now have a real desk. Nice to have drawers to put things away and hope I can keep it better cleared.

We really need some more young members. Haven't heard how the beginner class went but hope those attending are inspired and ready to dig into their roots.

Do you realize we don't visit in person, by letter or by telephone with those we love so dearly. Take time to stop by, drop a note or chat via phone with someone you haven't made contact with for sometime. It's often too late when we do think of such things.

Someone mentioned they'd like to know the counties we exchange newsletters with. Last issue we published the counties as shown by IGS. These are the counties we do exchange with: Boone, Cass, Clarke, Davis, Des Moines, Guthrie, Hardin (not on list but Box 252, Eldora, IA 50627), Keomah, Linn, Lucas, Madison, Marion, Mills, Monroe, Old Fort, Pioneer Sons & Dau., Poweshiek, Union and Wayne. (There was a list with addresses and a map in our May/June, 1992 newsletter.)

Thelma also mentioned an item in another newsletter showing Social Security Numbers to help identify the state where one was issued. (These were printed in our May/June, 1993 issue.)

Also check out the items each person was allowed to take with them in the early wagon-train migrations of about 1845. See page for a very interesting list!

The Union Roots Society newsletter for May, 1994, had a list of Iowa newspapers belonging to the Western Newspaper Union in 1908. Indianola didn't have any listed but Milo, New Virginia and Lacona did.

To preserve a news clipping so it will last 200 years: Dissolve a milk of magnesia tablet in a quart of club soda overnight. Pour it over the clipping that is flat in a pan. Soak for an hour. Remove. Pat away extra water. Don't move it until it is thoroughly dry. From: Union Co. Roots - Feb. '94. (My husband says, "How you going to know if it works?")

AN OPEN REQUEST TO OUR NEWSLETTER- EXCHANGE SOCIETIES LET'S SWAP!!!

The Greater Omaha Genealogical Society is actively seeking opportunities to exchange copies of books we have published for genealogical books of comparable value which are produced by other societies.

So how about it? Does your society have publications sitting around in someone's basement collecting dust? Let those books breath fresh air! After all the hard work it took to produce those books, they deserve to be made available to those researchers who are looking for the very information entrusted to their pages.

Inquiries about the book exchange program can be sent to: Greater Omaha Genealogical Society, P.O. Box 4011, Omaha NE 68104-0011

COULD WE DO SOMETHING LIKE THIS???? Yes, Vicki is writing to other Iowa societies to see what we might exchange and receive!

We have a few address changes and new members. We have one new member (he's our secretary Eve Brightman's uncle) and he says he's willing to check records for any of us as shown in the column GENEALOGICAL SOURCES IN AREA on page 2. What a gesture! His name is John P. Buttram.

THE HARD TO FIND FAMILY AND LOCAL HISTORIES

Have you ever found a book in a library that was in such poor condition that it could not be photo copied? Sometimes librarians say nothing can be copied if it was published before 1900. Maybe you found an old family history and wanted a copy of your own. There are several ways to get these materials.

If the library refuses to copy the item, check with other libraries ___ by mail if necessary. Knowing the name of the book, the author, year of publication, and the pages involved, this is a simple request. Write and ask (1) do they have the item, (2) can they provide copies of the desired pages (3) the cost of same. Many will want a signed request form which they will usually supply when responding to your query. Be SURE to enclose an SASE!

If you want an original, this can present a problem. Most genealogies are short run, and rapidly become difficult to obtain. However, there are several venders that may be able to help you. Most of them supply catalogs. The catalogs alone are an excellent investment and will soon become dog-eared from constant reading and reference. As you open new lines, the catalogs are useful guides for home use when planning your next visit to a library. Many venders can supply second hand books, and there is a good description of each book. Names of three venders and the price of their catalogs are as follows:

Tuttle Antiquarian Books, Inc., PO Box 541 (26 S. Main St.) Rutland, VT.
(Zip) 05701 Catalog $6.00

Goodspeed's Book Shop, 7 Beacon St., Boston, MA 02108 Catalog $ 5.00

Higginson Genealogical Books, 14 Derby Square, Salem, MA 01970
Catalog $2.00

As older genealogies and local histories become more difficult to find, photo copies are being offered. No need to worry about copyright, the vender must be concerned that it has expired or secure permission for reprints before they are made. As copyrights expire, many publishers are offering reprinted editions of out of print books. Watch for advertisements in genealogical publications for such offerings.

What happens and where do you turn when the vender catalogs do not list the book(s) you want to purchase? Write to them and tell them of your interest. Catalogs are expensive to print, and aren't always current. The firm may well have your book in stock. Tuttle's and Goodspeed will note the want, and inform you when/if the book becomes available. If you still can not find your book, check with another company:

University Microfilms International, 300 N. Zeeb Rd., Ann Arbor, MI 48106

This company has many genealogies on MICROFICHE, that are available for purchase. Some of the larger genealogical libraries, have the collection of microfiche books available, and if they have a reader-printer available, you can copy the pages you want. (I found my book at the MID-CONTINENT PUBLIC LIBRARY IN INDEPENDENCE, MO.)

Realize that these are not the only sources, you may be lucky enough to find an out of print book at a flea market for a very inexpensive cost. Another source might be the Historical Association in the area of interest. People tend to give these books to such associations, and some are willing to part with duplicates for much less than market price.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards made every effort to entertain their aged guests and all seemed to enjoy themselves fully. Appropriate mottoes were hung about the room and the comfort and pleasure of the aged company carefully attended to. A bountiful dinner was served at 1 o'clock and by 3 o'clock the venerable assembly began to disperse.

This company will never again meet on earth. Few of them can much longer delay their final summons. Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Richards gave a similar party and fourteen of those who attended it are since deceased.

DUTCH FESTIVAL

Thoughts of the Dutch seem to turn naturally to tulips and delft. In Pella, Iowa, the Dutch heritage of the local people draws over 150,000 visitors in May each year to Pella Tulip Time. Nowhere else could you find 400 students performing Dutch dances, hear Dutch organ music, view the Tulip Tower, attend a street scrubbing, or tour formal tulip gardens with a rainbow of tulips in all colors and combinations. Perhaps you'll be chosen a member of the Royal Dutch Court. There's lots of Dutch and American food. At a nominal cost, most evenings, value is high at Pella Tulip Time.
